DEPARTMENT OF PRASUTI TANTRA EVAM STREE ROGA

INTRODUCTION:

The subject of Prasuti Tantra evam Stree Roga is a vital branch of Ayurvedic science that deals with women's health, pregnancy, childbirth (Prasuti Tantra), and gynecological disorders (Stree Roga). This department plays a crucial role in preparing students to understand the physiological and pathological conditions specific to women, with an emphasis on Ayurvedic principles integrated with modern gynecological and obstetric knowledge.

Our department provides a comprehensive academic and clinical foundation, enabling students to assess, diagnose, and manage various gynecological and obstetric conditions using classical Ayurvedic texts as well as contemporary approaches. It aims to instill a holistic and ethical approach to women's healthcare.

To support this goal, the department is equipped with educational and clinical resources, including well-maintained departmental charts, a museum, and teaching aids that help in conceptual clarity and practical understanding. These facilities help bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and clinical application, ensuring that students receive an enriched learning experience.

As part of the core curriculum for final-year BAMS students, the study of Prasuti Tantra evam Stree Roga not only enhances diagnostic and therapeutic skills but also encourages compassionate and individualized care. With a strong foundation in Ayurvedic classics like Charaka Samhita, Sushruta Samhita, Ashtanga Hridaya, and Kashyapa Samhita, combined with updated knowledge of modern gynecology and obstetrics, this department trains students to become competent Ayurvedic practitioners and future specialists in women's health.
