DEPARTMENT OF PANCHAKARMA

INTRODUCTION

The Panchakarma department is the keystone of Ayurvedic therapeutic practice, offering in-depth knowledge and hands-on training in Ayurvedic purification and detoxification techniques. The term Panchakarma refers to the 'five actions' that eliminate accumulated doshas and restore balance in the body.

At S.S. Agrawal Institute, the department focuses on unification classical Ayurvedic practices with modern clinical approaches. It equips students with a thorough understanding of pre-operative (Purvakarma), operative (Pradhanakarma), and post-operative (Paschatkarma) procedures of Panchakarma.

The department includes fully operational Panchakarma theatres, treatment rooms, modern infrastructure, and experienced clinical staff, ensuring students gain real-world exposure and practical skills.

VISION

To promote the ancient science of Panchakarma as a preventive, promotive, and curative method by training competent Ayurvedic professionals with clinical knowledge.

MISSION

- To instruct theoretical and clinical training in all Panchakarma therapies.
- To maintain a fully functional OPD and IPD unit for patient learning.
- To create awareness about Ayurvedic wellness through seasonal Panchakarma.
- To encourage documentation and research in Panchakarma therapy for global recognition.
